

Tahoe Sierra IRWMP Drought Preparedness Project

Attachment 1: Eligibility

The South Tahoe Public Utility District (STPUD) is the agency responsible for the management of the Department of Water Resources IRWM Drought solicitation, should a contract be awarded.

The STPUD is a publicly-held corporation authorized to operate pursuant to the provisions of Section 9 of the "Public Utility District Act", as amended, (Act 6391 of Deering's General Laws) in the State of California. It has the legal authority under this provision to enter into any funding contracts with the State of California.

As lead agency, STPUD would hold a grant agreement with each subcontracting agency receiving funds from this solicitation. This is a legally binding document entered into and adopted by the governing entity of each agency. The agreement describes programmatic and fiscal responsibilities of each grant partner and the consequences of failure to perform.
